California Business Climate— As Seen By Sen. John Stull

State Senator John Stull has been presented in this column several times. Redistricting took him out of the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area. His district now covers the north part of the county but Sen. Stull continues to communicate with us. Here is material we received last week.

Dated June 2, this year a letter signed by former San Diego banker Richard Silberman, Governor Brown's new Business and Transportation Agency Secretary, was sent to several hundred local economic development agencies (Chambers of Commerce).

In that letter, Secretary Silberman indicated an interest in obtaining photographs depicting California business and industry. "The photographs would be used for display in the reception and hallway areas of the Business and Transportation Agency and the Governor's Office. We are particularly interested in obtaining pictures suitable for framing which represent industries which have recently moved to, or have expanded, in California. Pictures of sites under construction would also be highly desirable."

(One wonders if they have received a picture of the vacant Dow Chemical development site?)

The Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce's response to Silberman is especially enlightening: "... such photographs are not available. If, however, you would like photos of the vacant lots, undeveloped light industrial sites, and derelict structures along Cannery Row, all of which are in such a state as a result of coastal legislation, we would be happy to forward some for your exhibit."

What we are viewing is a masterfully planned public relations response to a very real problem by a Governor who is just now realizing, it seems, that it is business which provides jobs and stability, NOT government.

First we had the "California Means Business" buttons (purchased from an out-of-state firm). Now a search for photographs. And a visit by Governor Brown's key political advisor Tom Quinn to Japan to recruit business to California (why not encourage expansion of American automobile manufacturers' California plants?).

Moreover, it now appears that Governor Brown is reversing his former opposition to elimination of the business inventory tax, a woeful burden to business which I have been striving to eliminate without the Governor's help for several years.

On the other hand, the Governor's appointees to the Workers Compensation Appeals Board continues to award increasingly costly benefits; his appointees to the Air Resources Board have announced even stricter vehicle emissions standards; his appointees to the Public Utilities Commission want to impound utility rebates accruing to business, (which effort by the PUC my Senate Bill 604 will halt); his Director of Consumer Affairs continues to allege in the press that all California businessmen are trying to defraud the public; his new Chief Justice of the Supreme Court is the architect of the anti-agriculture farm labor law; his appointees to the U.C. Board of Regents want to involve themselves in the overseas investment practices of the businesses in which U.C. invests, and there's more and more.

The creation of an Office of Business Development within Secretary Silberman's agency is certainly commendable, even if it is by the same administration which previously dismantled the Department of Commerce and the Bureau of Tourism. So too is the solicitation of photographs of business to hand to the Governor's office, even if that same Governor and his appointees support anti-business coastal control laws and other anti-growth property control proposals.

But one must also remember that 1978 is a gubernatorial election year, and it is coming nearer with each day's passing. Business would therefore be well advised to take what it can from this Governor while it can.

'Straw Vote' Scheduled For Valle de Oro Plan

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors is expected to approve the Valle de Oro Community Plan in a "straw vote" taken at 7 p.m. July 11 in Monte Vista High School.

The vote culminates over six years of work on the Plan by the County Integrated Planning Office, the Citizen's Executive Committee and the citizens of Spring Valley.

Mike Wright, county planning engineer who took over the reins from brother Roger and who was integral in the finishing touches of the document, said the Supervisors are expected to tentatively approve the measure in what is called a "straw vote."

"The vote the Board of Supervisors will take that night will be what is called a 'straw vote,'" Wright explained. "Since the Board of Supervisors are bound by law to take only one vote, the idea behind the tentative vote is strictly to show the citizens of Spring Valley their acceptance of Valle de Oro Plan."

Wright said the Board is expected to give final approval August 11 to all phases of the San Diego County General Plan, a plan which also includes the Alpine, Lakeside, Rainbow, Santee, and Sweetwater Plans.

On agenda for the program at Monte Vista High School will be a short presentation of the Plan by Mike Wright, then questions from Spring Valley citizens.

Wright said slips will be available for those wishing to address the Board of Supervisors and there will be a three minute time limit set for each address.

"The slips will be either pink or green and have spaces for the name of the speaker and the topic he or she wishes to address," Wright added.

The county planner said no new requests or changes will be heard by the Supervisors and added he knew of only once the Board held just such a vote up for further changes. "Usually what will happen at these hearings is supporters of the Plan will be held back in favor of the Citizen's Executive Committee," Wright explained. "To save time, the Board allows the elected citizen's committee to speak for the citizens who are in favor of the plan."

He added those with "objections" will be of prime interest to the Supervisors.

'I SOLEMNLY SWEAR . . . — Supervisor Lucille Moore, left, places mantle of authority on councilmen Dell Lake, Dale Bailey, Mayor Jim Dorman, Vice Mayor Bob Burns and Jack Doherty.

Incorporation had succeeded after two score years and four tries. The councilmen were inaugurated Friday night. The city became functional Tuesday.

Lemon Grove Becomes State's 414th City

By Max Goodwin

It was a perfect night for romance or giving birth to a city.

The several thousand citizens who came to the celebration of the inauguration of the council by which the City of Lemon Grove would be operated for the next several years showed a great affection for the installation ceremonies, the firing of the inaugural cannon, the fireworks and the dance which followed ceremony.

The only negative voices were those who had to stand—the 500 or so seats in the Lemon Grove Junior High School auditorium being filled with those who were to become a part of the history of the forming of a small, but vital community, destined to be as successful as any in the state.

Four attempts at incorporation had tended to polarize opposition forces but, if members of that group were present, it was not evident.

Main Show

The ceremony itself was the main show. In it the script was well-written, if indeed there was a script. The performance which included national, state and county officials went off as smoothly as if it had been rehearsed for weeks.

Most people came for the fireworks and saw a production which should make no apology to some of the super-shows offered during the 4th of July week-end.

Congressman Van

The inaugural ceremony went smoothly and was a credit to all who participated.

U.S. Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin opted to sit in the audience rather than on stage where other dignitaries and the council-to-be were seated. He had to leave early to attend another function.

CHP East County Commander C. M. Douglas and his wife sat with Van Deerlin.

On stage, taking part in the ceremony were Ray Heiserman, a director of EPIC (Effective Problem Intervention Center) who led the pledge of allegiance, and John Stenbeck, president of the L.G. Rotary club who gave the invocation.

State Senator Jim Mills noted the "historic event which gives promise of satisfaction as a city."

Former Supervisor Dick Brown under whose regime the Lemon Grove incorporation action was started noted that supervisors cannot permanently provide all the needs of unincorporated communities. He commended the council-elect.

"Too many people run for city council for personal gain," Brown noted. He said that this was not the case in Lemon Grove.

Brown also commended Charlotte Langley, of the county's Office of Intergovernmental Affairs, for the effort she gave to the forming of the new city.

Supervisor Moore

Lucille Moore, who succeeded Brown as supervisor of the 2nd District, administered the oath of office to the council.

Sups Vow Lower Property Tax; Tax Rate AND Tax Bills to Drop

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors has reduced the amount of property taxes to be collected countywide next year, and paved the way for the largest tax rate reduction in 38 years, according to Board Chairman Jim Bates.

As a result of budget deliberations, the Board has reduced the amount of secured property taxes to be collected by $2.9 million. County officials are estimating a possible 44 cent reduction in the tax rate this year.

"The Supervisors and County staff worked long hard hours developing this budget and we are very pleased to be able to present this budget to the taxpayers of the county," Bates said.

"The Board had previously committed itself to a substantial reduction in the tax rate, and with the adoption of this budget, it looks as though that goal will be realized," said

Bates.

"The time has come when government must set limits and realize that its citizens can not continue to pay more

CHP Looks at City Needs

5-Man, 3-Shift Service Seen for L.G. Traffic

California Highway Patrol Captain C. M. Douglas, commander of the east county area with headquarters in El Cajon, told members of the Lemon Grove Lions club Thursday night that he keeps 3 patrol shifts and 5 men assigned to the Lemon Grove area.

The assignments measure out to two 1-man shifts daytime and a 2-man shift in the late night unit. The other man is the vacation, sick-leave and days-off relief.

He noted that the cost of maintaining a 5-man 3-shift operation is $200,000 a year.

"All levels of police service are expensive," Douglas said. Salaries account for 85 percent of the cost; 38 percent of the salary goes for employee benefits.

Cranston's Rep Due Here Mon.

An aide to U.S. Senator Alan Cranston will hold open office hours for the public in Lemon Grove on Monday, the Senator's Washington office announced this week.

Dom Vaca, Cranston's statewide field representative, will be available 9-noon in the Information and Referral Center, S.E. corner of Imperial and Palm ave.,

"Holding sessions like this one in Lemon Grove is one way for Senator Cranston to make the resources of his office available to people at the local level," Vaca said. "At the same time it gives the Senator a chance to hear through me what people in California are saying about some of the issues he votes on in Washington, D.C."

Vaca said that opinions and individual problems brought up during the local field visit will be given priority attention by Cranston and his California staff.

CB Channel Signs Now Under Control

Lighted channel-preference signs mounted on vehicles by citizen band (CB) radio users must be of a type approved by the California Highway Patrol, Captain C. M. Douglas, Commander of the CHP's El Cajon Area, advised motorists.

Captain Douglas said "A number of the lighted signs have not been approved for California use."

He pointed out that the law prohibits interior mounting, although at least one manufacturer's installation procedure "recommends an inside, rear-window mounting. This was an erroneous instruction which the manufacturer is correcting."

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Health Tips For Summer

The California Medical Association is issuing its annual summertime health alerts for recreational endeavors. Some of the tips listed include tennis elbow, first aid for motorists, skate boards, and diving.

Water Sports

L. S. Kewaramani and Jess F. Kraus of the University of California School of Medicine at Davis report summertime diving exploits account for some 75 per cent of all recreational-related spinal cord injuries and about half of these cases result in permanent paralysis of all four limbs.

The pair said the incidence of injuries is highest in boys 15 to 19 years old and results most often from diving into mountain rivers and streams. Swimming pools are the second most deadly.

All injuries studied by the two doctors were from data collected during 1970-71 in 18 Northern California counties.

The doctors found of the 45 patients studied, six recovered from injuries within a week, 10 recovered within a year, but more than half were totally paralyzed.

The injuries appeared to be caused with impact with the water despite some of the cases did manage to strike bottom of the water.

Skate Boards

The medical also is thumbing down skateboards and presumably sidewalk roller skating.

The CMA said driveways should be used for practice until proficiency, to slow the boards or skates down until user becomes proficient with them, not to use skates or boards on busy streets, and warned parents not to use especially skateboards because "it is not as easy as it looks."

Tennis Elbow

Tennis elbow is a muscle strain from overexertion of the arm. Specific muscle in question is on the lower forearm from the elbow to the wrist.

Overuse of this muscle causes pain, the same pain baseball pitchers and cabinet makers experience.

Tennis (or cabinet makers) elbow can be cured simply by stopping the exercise. Push-ups before playing might prevent this strain and an ice bag may help those out of shape.

Rare cases require pain killer to be injected into the area. Another hazard the CMA states caused from tennis is "tennis toe". This condition can be alleviated by wearing bigger shoes. The situation is caused by small shoes.

1st Aid For Motorists

The CMA also gives tips for motorists involved in or witness to an automobile accident.

The first priorities are to recruit help, send for police and ambulance, re-route traffic or provide some sort of warning for on-coming vehicles and to administer first aid.

First priorities for the victims are to prevent them from choking, to restore breathing, and to stop bleeding.

An unconscious victim should receive attention first. His air passage may be blocked and need attention. Inspect the mouth to see if he has swallowed his tongue. Blood, vomit, teeth or broken dentures may be causing the blockage.

Check the chest to see if there is breathing. If the victim is not breathing, you should start mouth-to-mouth resuscitation immediately.

You must breathe directly into his mouth with his head tilted back and his nostrils pinched. Check to see after a few minutes of mouth-to-mouth if breathing is restored.

If the victim starts breathing on his own, turn him on his side in the event he begins to vomit or bleed there will be less risk of choking.

Almost as important is blood losses. First apply pressure with your hand and be certain you have identified the entire wound. As soon as possible, apply a cloth to the area and elevate the bleeding portion.

Do not use a tourniquet. Other tips are:

—check for live power lines on vehicles before approaching,

—turn off the ignition of crashed cars,

—watch for and extinguish cigarettes,

—most accident victims will be suffering from some form of shock. Keep them quiet and protected; be as reassuring as you can and never give them alcohol.

—get all the help you possibly can and warn motorists to stay clear,

—and finally, plan ahead and think about what you would do in the event of an accident.

Women's Commission Begins Investigations on Agriculture

SACRAMENTO — The American Gothic may have to hang a little straighter for the California Commission on the Status of Women.

The Commission has allocated some $143,000 for a study project to find out why there is a "curious lack of information on the lifestyles and working conditions of women in the agricultural force."

"Every occupation in California is broken down in terms of pay scales and working conditions for men and women—except agriculture," said Pamela Faust, Commission executive director.

"The Commission's past experience has taught us that where information on women is lacking, real problems may exist."

The women plan to study the state's food growers for at least the next year and according to Commission sources the study claims to be the first ever to be launched in the nation.

Faust said Fresno and Imperial Counties have been selected for the study.

To comply with state hiring mandates, the Commission is seeking a project director and a senior clerk typist to handle the project.

Despite data collected by the California Farm Bureau which show California farmers' incomes are steadily decreasing, Faust said farm employment was becoming more stable.

"With the increasing mechanization in agriculture, job opportunities will be opening up to women," Faust added. "Indications are that lifestyles of women agricultural laborers in California are becoming more stable and are being absorbed into communities."

"The Commission feels," she continued, "that an in-depth study can provide a basis for preventive measures against unfamiliar pressures on women laborers, their families and communities."

Sandcastle Building Limelighted by UCSD

Taking academia to new depths, the Extension Office of the University of California at San Diego is seeking the spotlight with a three day session on sandcastle building.

The University is seriously offering for a $30 fee two separate sections of "An Introduction to Sandcastle Building."

According to a spokesman for the University, the course will be taught by two potters from Stoneware company in Del Mar.

The teachers of the course, Gary Kinsella and John Laver of the Eucalyptus Stoneware Co., will show students how to "acquire the skills to design and execute Medieval and Renaissance architectural structures" in the sand, presumably without getting your head caught in creation.

The first session begins on July 13 and the second begins on August 17.

Both teachers will be competing in the 10th Annual Mission Bay Sand Castle Building Contest on July 10.

Registration for the contest will begin at 9 a.m. and no building will be allowed to start before 10 a.m. Pre-registration for the contest is through Mission Bay Associates at 276-2800.

Although late for the competition at Crown Point Shores, the UCSD Extension course registration is made by calling 452-3400.

Mrs. Eloyse Vaughn and Mrs. Martha Purdy are co-chairmen for the evening.

The district president and marshal are from the El Capitan Rebekah Lodge no. 358.

S.D. Symphony Pops Marks 50th Birthday

The S.D. Symphony Orchestra's summer season of pops concerts has been expanded to include a new series in La Jolla, according to General Manager Richard Bass.

The "Golden Sounds of Summer" will commemorate the 50th Anniversary of the orchestra's founding.

Celebrated singer Ella Fitzgerald will open the series tomorrow and Saturday and the traditional Andre Kostelanetz-conducted concert featuring cannons, mortars and fireworks will conclude the season August 26 and 27.

Featured guest artists will include pianists Lorin Hollander and David Golub, singers Frankie Laine, Bonnie Hurwood and Ken Remo; guest conductors Mitch Miller and John Green and composer-pianist Dave Brubeck.

The orchestra will be under the baton of Associate Conductor Charles Ketcham when the series opens Friday at 8 p.m. at San Diego State University's Open Air Theatre.

Job Listings Available Through L.G. EPIC Office

The Effective Problem Intervention Center (EPIC) in Lemon Grove has compiled a list of summer jobs, many recently created as a result of federal money to the area.

EPIC's chief, Ellie Fishman, explained money has been received by the San Diego County Regional Employment Training Consortium under Title VI of the federal Public Service Employment Program. Eligibility for those positions include: San Diego County residency, low income, and long-term unemployment. Most jobs offered are full-time and begin in July and August.

EPIC also has listings for other jobs which do not require federal mandates. The counselors there can help job seekers make appropriate applications.

The job service at EPIC is available Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the EPIC office, 7600 Pacific ave., at the corner of Buena Vista. The phone number is 462-3742.

This Week's RECIPE

Colonial Beef and Kidney Pie

It is said George Washington was especially fond of a Beef and Kidney pie.

COLONIAL STEAK AND KIDNEY PIE

1 pound beef round steak cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick
1 beef kidney
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons cooking fat
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 cup chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 1/2 cups water

Pastry for one-crust pie

Cut round steak in 3/4 to 1 inch cubes. Wash kidney and remove tubes and fat from it. Cut kidney into 3/4 to one inch cubes.

Combine flour, salt, and pepper; dredge steak and kidney cubes (reserving any extra flour) and brown in cooking fat. Remove meat from frying-pan and add onion to drippings. Cook slowly until the onions are transparent. Pour off drippings, add pimiento, worcestershire sauce, thyme, and water to onion in frying pan and bring to a boil. Stir in browned meat cubes and any remaining seasoned flour.

Invert a nine-inch pie plate over pastry rolled to about 1/8-inch thick. Cut a circle about an inch from the rim of plate for top crust.

Cut a design in crust to allow steam to escape. Cut a second circle about 3/4 to one inch from edge of top crust to provide pastry to circle edge of pie plate.

Moisten edge of plate and top with outer circle of pastry adjusting to fit. Turn meat mixture into pie plate and cover with top crust. Seal top pastry to edge and flute.

Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 hours. Serves six.

Bjorn Borg, 1977 Wimbledon Champ Leads WTT All Stars in Sat. Tilt

Bjorn Borg, the new Wimbledon Tennis Singles Champ will be there. So will Chris Evert, Ilie Nastase and Rod Laver who will lead the west all-stars against an east squad that appears without a weakness.

The confrontation will be Saturday in the World Team Tennis All-Star Match in the Sports Arena.

Borg and Vitas Gerulaitis are the strong-arm men for the east who are backed by a solid women's lineup of Martina Navratilova, Billie Jean King, Sue Barker, Virginia Wade and Olga Morozova.

The five-set event will start promptly at 8 o'clock with player introductions beginning at 7:30. A capacity crowd is expected and fans are urged to arrive as early as possible. Gates open at 6:30 with pre-match entertainment, including a $50,000 target tennis competition, beginning at 6:45. The first 5,000 fans entering the Arena will receive All-Star match color posters.

Here are the complete all-star squads:

West: Evert, Kristien Shaw, Betty Stove, Francoise Durr, Kerry Reid, Laver, Nastase, Tom Okker, Frew McMillan and Tom Gorman.

East: Borg, Gerulaitis, Tony Roche, Roy Emerson, Marty Riessen, King, Wade, Navratilova, Barker and Morozova.

The rival coaches, Ross Case for the West and Fred Stolle for the East, do not have to announce their lineups until just prior to the match.

However, Case has indicated he'll play Nastase in singles and pair Laver and Okker in doubles. If so, Nastase and Borg will have a one-set rematch of their Wimbledon quarter final.

Here a probable, but by no means positive, lineup:

Men's singles — Nastase vs. Borg.

Women's singles — Evert vs. Navratilova or Barker or Wade.

Men's doubles — Laver and Okker vs. Roach and Gerulaitis.

Women's doubles — Evert and Stove vs. King and Wade. Mixed doubles — McMillan and Durr vs. Emerson and King.

An indication of the talent on both teams is the list of selected players who probably won't be able to crack the lineup. The group might include Riessen, the event's most valuable player two years ago, Gorman, Shaw, Morozova and possibly Barker.

This will be the third WTT All-Star Match, the east winning 28-21 in 1975 and the west taking a 28-27 supertie-breaker victory last year.

Excellent $5 seats still are available and may be purchased at the Sports Arena box office that is open daily.

'Chargertalk' Team Named by KSDO Radio

"Chargertalk", the fan talk involved program on KSDO in which telephone callers are answered on the air, has named Bob Chandler, veteran baseball announcer and Bruce Walton, former Dallas Cowboy offensive lineman, to team the program, according to John DeMott KSDO Sports Director.

DeMott, Jerry Gross and Scott Gregory will handle the Charger games.

Gross has served as sports director on local teevee and radio and has been announcer for baseball, basketball, hockey and football. Gregory is KSDO operations director.

E. County Players In Jr. World Golf

Four East County players have qualified for the 15-17 year division of the Junior World Golf Championships set for July 19-22 on San Diego courses for an estimated 650 entries from 31 nations and nearly all states of the Union.

Sharon Barrett of Spring Valley led all girls in qualifying recently at Rancho Penasquitos with a 70, also the lowest qualifying score of any girl in the U.S.

Her brother, Bill, also had a 70 to tie for second with four others in San Diego County qualifying.

Robert Spiegler, Alpine, had a 72 and Mike Long, El Cajon, a 73.

Many others from this area will compete in younger divisions without having to play qualifying rounds. The 15-17 group will play at Torrey Pines, the 13-14's at Balboa Park, the 11-12's at Mission Bay and the 10-and-unders at Presidio Hills.

The Junior World Championships, being held for the tenth year, are sponsored and conducted by the San Diego County Junior Golf Assn.

Little League Tourney Play Starts July 20

Little League area tournaments begin July 11 according to Norm Jose, district administrator of District 42.

Senior division tournaments kick-off the play with Sweetwater, Valley, Parkview and Southeastern as host fields. Their tournament will be at the Southeastern Little League field.

Little League tournaments begin July 20 at 4 fields. They are Lemon Grove, Twin Hills, Southwest and Imperial Beach. All week-day games begin at 5 with Saturday games starting at 1 p.m.

Spring Valley plays Luckie Waller at Southwestern July 20.

Lemon Grove plays South Bay at Lemon Grove July 22.

Winners move to the semis to be played July 23.

Fishing Fee Now At Lake Moreno

Lake Moreno, a County of San Diego park offering bass, channel catfish, bluegill, or crappie fishing now requires a permit fee of $2.50 per day for anyone 14 or older and 75 cents for juniors (8-13 years of age).

Children under 8 years can fish for free.

Lake Moreno was the only publicly owned lake in the County that did not charge a fee for use of the lake.

The lake park is located 63 miles east of San Diego near Campo and offers extensive camping and picnicking facilities.

All of the park's nearly 100 campsites are located within walking distance of the lake, with many of the campsites situated under shady oak trees.

Because of the rustic theme of the park no utility hook-ups are offered, but the park is equipped with modern restroom facilities and hot showers.

Lake Moreno is open seven days a week. Row boats are available for rent at $3 a day on a first-come first-served basis on weekends and holidays. Private boat launching is not permitted.

For reservations, call the County of San Diego's Department of Parks and Recreation at 299-2267.

3 Heavy Bouts On Friday Nite's Coliseum Card

Heavies head the bill Friday night at the Coliseum, 15th and E sts. in downtown San Diego.

Headling the 30-round, 5-bout card is Eddie "The Animal" Lopez, a favorite in L.A. He faces "Sweet" Charlie James, also of L.A. Both scrappers are noted for action and each carries lethal weapons in both gloves. They will slug it out for 10 rounds or less.

The second heavyweight is a 6-rounder with Fili Moala of Tonga meeting "Dangerous Dan" Johnson of Long Beach. Interestingly, Fili's record of 9-0 is made up totally of KO's.

In a light-heavyweight 6-rounder, Dave Wynne of Chula Vista with a 7-0 record in tact except for one draw, meets Randy "Tex" Cobb of Texas. Wynne will have to prove he can take a punch Friday.

Irish "Spud" Murphy, a quick featherweight is back again this time to meet Carlos Ortiz in a 4-rounder. Ortiz is a product of the S.D. Youth Development Program in Logan Heights.

Lightweights Arturo Reyes, also of the SDYD Program and Eric Bonilla, San Diego, will wrap up the card.

The gong sounds at 8:15. Juniors, seniors and military get discounts on reserved seats. Reservations are available at 233-4664.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

The Padres celebrated the end of the first half of the '77 campaign with a come-from-behind, 8-7 win over defending champion Cincinnati on Sunday night last, but if there is an omen there, it's lost on this poor portable pounder.

Despite the victory the Padres marched into halftime with a 33-48 record, 21½ games behind division leader Los Angeles and short of a modern day miracle, out of the pennant race.

The Players of July do not reflect the promise of March. The outfield brings adventure to every fly ball, the infield is porous, pitching ranges from rag-tag to inept and the catching adds drama in both receiving and throwing.

Those who can't hit can catch a little bit, but those who can catch aren't hitting a lick. There is much promise and hope for the future, but in the equation of winning baseball, the Padres reside on the very low end of the scale.

To take proper measure of their current worth one must examine the separate parts of the Padre total.

It's an easy task. No special tools or skills are needed. It's a game any number can play. Everybody is welcome, from little old ladies in sneakers, kids in bare feet, fat guys with beer bellies, trim young things with adventurous minds and even jokers who think they know something about the game. Everybody gets a shot. The only fee is to buy a ticket once in a while and go see a game. After all, fair is fair.

The trick is to judge each club by breaking down its various departments, judging all who ply their trade at each position and assign each position a numerical value on a scale from zero to 10.

When each position has been fairly judged, plot the values on a simple scale and draw a line across the five mark to establish the average line.

It stands reason those reaching above the average line give strength and indicate contenderhood to the club under review, while lesser marks bring dark clouds, worry, gray hair to managers and added numbers in the lost column.

Let us start with Padre pitching. It's a real sham-ble. Last year's Cy Young award winner Randy Jones is hors d'combat, and the same goes for Brent Strom. You could expect 20 wins between them by now, but all they total is four.

What's left of the starters is untried, untested and mostly unrewarding. What promised to be the best relief corps in the game has been tapped so often that even the spare parts are wearing out.

Give the Pitching a value of TWO.

There are three catchers, two young ones learning and one with a big contract, who is pressing. Rate catching no more than THREE.

With Ivie at first, it gets a five and going up. Anybody else drops it to a three. Almon and Champion are in their first year and trying hard. Rate second and short at FOUR. Tucker Ashford is new and the dozen other guys at third aren't. Give it a THREE.

Split Kingman and Richards in left and rate it at FOUR. Rookie Richards should be playing every day, because someday he'll be a nine.

George Hendrick gives almost his all in center and comes in as a solid SEVEN. When the WANTS to play he's a 12 on the scale of 10.

Dave Winfield is a nine plus right now and he's still climbing. And in addition, he'd be above an eight at any other position, including catching (which he's never done) and pitching (where he played in college). Winfield is a bonafide Superstar, just coming into his prime.

With Rattennund, Kingman, Turner, Sutherland and which ever catchers aren't in the lineup, give the bench a solid SIX.

Now plot that on a chart and you'll see the reason the Padres aren't winning this year is because they just don't have the numbers.

Destruction Derby Added To El Cajon Speedway Card

An 8-race card will be topped by a 40-lap Main Event Saturday at El Cajon Speedway and a destruction derby will be thrown in as an added attraction.

Other events include the 4-lap Trophy Dash; four 8-lap heats; a 10-lap Consolation, and a 20-lap Semi.

The destruction derby should be one of the biggest of the season because interest has been growing. At least one

Workshop on Fear

San Diego State University will hold a workshop on fear this weekend.

The workshop will be taught by political science professor Dr. Harlan Lewin. The cost is $35 plus student union and activity fees of $5.50.

Pre-registration materials may be obtained by calling the SDSU Summer Programs Office at 286-5152.

woman has said she will enter the race. There may be a record number of recruits for the junkyard when the race is finished.

Last week Cajon racer John Dineen saw a familiar sight in his mirror. It was Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley.

In 1973 Dineen battled McIntyre down to the final race of the season before losing the championship by only five points. But Saturday night in the 75-lap super stock main event of the 3/8 mile paved oval, the El Cajon machinist repulsed the continual challenges of his long time rival and took the checkered flag two lengths ahead of McIntyre.

Fast qualifier Ed Hale was third after passing Mark Norris with three laps to go. In fifth behind Norris was Larry Lyon.

The race was a game of bumper tag from the 22nd lap on. Dineen had charged from 13th starting position into the lead on lap 20 while McIntyre had raced from 11th at the green to second in 22 rounds.

But once on the tail of Dineen, the four time champion found the going tough. McIntyre tried every trick in the book to get past Dineen, but was repulsed in every attempt. He drew alongside the leader only once, and that occurred when the two leaders were lapping slower cars.

'Greatest Show' Opens Wednesday

German-born animal trainer Gunther Gebel-Williams introduces his newest act featuring leopards, panthers and pumas July 13-17 when the 107th edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus opens a 10-performance run at the San Diego Sports Arena.

Williams spent two years thoroughly training the 20 unpredictable and treacherous felines before he felt they were ready to make their debut with The Greatest Show on Earth.

The famed trainer also returns to the limelight with a pride of 17 Royal Bengal tigers under his command as well as directing an entire herd of elephants with his voice commands alone.

For the three-time winner of the Circus World Oscar, the most important factor in wild animal training is earning the trust of his creatures, followed by years of intensive training.

Williams says elephants are the hardest of all animals to train, explaining that he starts with a phederm breaking a piece of wood with his foot, then repeated until he learns how much pressure is needed.

Appearing in the midst of 17 snarling tigers, Williams commands them to sit up, walk in a disciplined chorus line, play leapfrog and has even taught one to walk backwards on his hind legs.

Of this, he says: "This is a very difficult trick. The first thing you must find is a tiger who can go backwards without tripping on his tail."

The 1977 show also features the highwire artistry of the Carrillo Brothers from Columbia, the trapeze wizardry of the Flying Farfars and the Flying Segras, the antics of the Mickey Antelek chimps and Dolly Jacobs in her solo debut on the Roman rings.

Providing laughs from the beginning to the end are more than 30 zany circus clowns.

The Sports Arena schedule calls for performances at 8 p.m. July 13, 14, 15 and 16, with matinees at 2:30 on July 14, 15 and 16. The July 16 schedule also includes an 11 a.m. performance, while July 17 has the circus at 1:30 and 5:30 p.m.

Pidgeon Contest

Two from the area won honors in the pidgeon contest held recently at the Southern California Exposition.

Joe and Karen Fraire, Lemon Grove, won 1st prize for their English Trampeters, 2nd for English Trumpeters, and another second on their third pair of English Trumpeter pidgeons.

Mike Gomes, Spring Valley, took first place for his pair of Roller pidgeons (six separate awards), first for Norwich Cropper, and a 3rd for Norwich Cropper.

"Knowing each of you, I am confident about the future of Lemon Grove ..."

Each of the councilmen, now officials, touched upon city philosophy and some reminiscence.

The council got down to work at hand and took care of some urgent business. Don McLean, city attorney of National City was named attorney of Lemon Grove.

Maggie Reilly, a retired city clerk of the City of La Mesa was named acting city clerk and treasurer.

Outside the dance music started by playing standards. Over at the Senior Center where a reception was held earlier, a rock group held a large crowd enthralled. A cannon blast had set the entertainment in motion and a 15-minute fireworks display lit the skies.

It was a memorable night for many citizens of the 414th and newest city.

Supervisors are scheduled to actually set the tax rate in August. Last fiscal year's tax rate for $2.28 for each $100 of assessed valuation.

This marks the third consecutive year that the Board of Supervisors has been able to offer a substantial tax rate reduction to area residents.

Last year the Board cut the tax rate 33.9 cents for each $100 assessed valuation and the year before the Board reduced the tax rate seven cents. If the potential 45 cent tax rate reduction is adopted by Supervisors, San Diego residents will have received a total tax rate reduction of 85.9 cents over the last three years.

When Supervisors issued budget guidelines to county staff earlier this year, the Board said "hold the line" on the amount of property taxes collected adopting a proposal from Supervisor Roger Hedgecock presented in January so the amount collected this year would not exceed the $117 million collected last year. The Hedgecock proposal was endorsed by the entire Board including Supervisor Jim Bates, Lucille V. Moore, Lee Taylor and Tom Hamilton.

County staff followed the Board's directive and presented Supervisors with a proposed balanced budget that would not involve collecting more property taxes this year than last year. The budget approved by the Board is $521.5 million.

Dogs Bite 5,496 County People

Cartoonists and humorists have logged quite a few miles out of dog-biting-man situations in San Diego County. Fido's bite is becoming worse than his bark.

Almost 5,500 people have been bitten in the county in the past year with May and June being peak months for reported dog bites, according to statistics released by the County of San Diego's Department of Animal Control.

Victims are finding very little to laugh about when they have been bitten by a dog. Over half of the bites reported in the county last year were in critical areas of the upper parts of the body.

But it's not only the victim that suffers. If the dog bites twice in a 48-month period the animal can be declared a vicious animal by the courts and the owner usually has a choice of either removing the animal from the State or turning it over to the County's Department of Animal Control to be destroyed. If a dog is reported biting three times a citation is issued by the Department and the matter is turned over to the courts.

According to Department officials, the best way to keep from getting bitten is to stay away from strange dogs and the best way to keep your dog from biting someone is to obey the law and keep your dog on a leash.

Of the total 5,495 bites reported by the Department, 861 were on the head/face and 2,210 on the upper extremities. Some 409 were on the body trunk and 2,098 occurred on the lower extremities.

The lowest ebb is in December. At no time in any month did the number of reported bites drop below 356 with a high of 557 for May.

Colorado River Driest Since 1934 Drought

In 1934 the level dipped to 18 percent of normal.

The Colorado River is one of the major sources of San Diego's water.

Social Security Pay up $3 Million

235,000 in S.D. County To Share $47 Million

Friday, 47 million dollars will be delivered to Social Security beneficiaries in San Diego County. "About 235,000 people including the aged, the disabled and the survivors of deceased workers will share in this latest cost-of-living increase," Arlyn B. Carr, Social Security District Manager in San Diego, said. "That's 3 million more than we paid in June," Carr added.

The increased payments are the result of a 5.9 percent cost of living increase based on the use of consumer prices from the first quarter of 1976 to the first quarter of 1977.

With the cost-of-living increase, average social security payments to retired workers will go from $221 to $234 per month. Disabled workers will realize an increase for $248 to $262 per month. Average survivor payments to widowed mothers or fathers with two children in their care will go from $517 to $547 per month.

Social Security checks are usually delivered on the 3rd of the month but when the 3rd falls on Saturday or Sunday the checks are delivered the preceding Friday. Since July 3rd is a Sunday, checks will be delivered on Friday July 1.

Approximately 36,000 Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipients in San Diego County will also receive increases on July 1. The SSI program pays monthly benefits to needy aged, blind and disabled people.

In California the SSI payment for aged and disabled people will increase from $276 to $296 per month for those living independently. Those without cooking facilities can receive up to $329 per month. Blind persons may receive as much as $334 per month. The rates for aged and disabled couples will be $557 per month while blind couples may receive up to $663 per month.

Social Security and SSI recipients don't have to do anything to get the raise in benefits. Any increases due will be added to checks automatically.

Ask Your C.H.P.

CHP Capt. C.M. Douglas

This Week's Question:

I live in a rural community and always see Highway Patrol cars in the area. I feel assured in knowing the CHP is around. Does the Highway Patrol just work in rural areas?

This Week's Answer:

No, on the contrary. The CHP allocates more manpower to freeway patrol than to unincorporated rural areas. Approximately 80% of the Patrol's manpower is assigned to the Los Angeles basin area, which has the most travelled upon freeway system in the United States. The average number of vehicles travelling on the Santa Monica Freeway at the Normandy off ramp per day is 244,000 vehicles.

The Highway Patrol has primary jurisdiction on all state freeways in both incorporated and unincorporated areas for traffic enforcement and accident investigation. Through the Patrol's experience, they are regarded as the foremost authority in the world on freeway enforcement and accident investigation. This unsurpassed expertise is carried to the road by every Traffic Officer who has spent some time on a crowded freeway system, making him qualified to handle any traffic situation which may arise on any rural or metropolitan highway.

Aging Force to Meet In Lemon Grove Mon.

The East County Task Force on Aging will be in Lemon Grove Monday to discuss specific problems with area senior citizens.

According to Mary Kay Gill, task force chairman, the government task force holds its monthly meetings regularly in various localities throughout the East County area so that seniors may have their questions answered.

On agenda for the meeting will be presentations by Loreta Kimball of Allied Home Health Services and Marilyn Jenkins of the San Diego County Mental Health Department.

Also on hand will be Oscar Burch, of the Spring Valley arm of the Task Force, and Eula Anderes of the Heartland Creative Community Association.

Discussion on objectives and goals for the Task Force will be discussed.

Van Says No-Fault Insurance Surer

Compensation of California auto accident victims would be faster, surer and fairer if a national no-fault insurance law is enacted, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Chula Vista, told a House subcommittee this week.

Van Deerlin is author of no-fault legislation being considered by the House Subcommittee on Consumer Protection and Finance. In 1975, as chairman of the same panel, Van Deerlin carried a similar bill to the full House Commerce Committee but the plan was later killed in the Senate.

The legislator said that 20 cents of every dollar spent for auto insurance winds up in the pockets of trial lawyers—about $1.5 billion a year.

Under the no-fault method, he said, insurance would be primarily intended to compensate drivers for their own injuries instead of being used to settle law suits stemming from accidents.

16 Months Wait

He said the "fault" system still in effect in California deprives drivers of full benefits. They have only a 50-50 chance of recovering any money from the other driver's insurance, they wait an average of 16 months for repayment when it is made, and they are unlikely to receive more than $10,000 no matter how grave their injuries, Van Deerlin went on.

No-fault insurance, in contrast, would provide "certain payment" for injuries and "accurate reimbursement for actual, economic loss," in most cases within 30 days after claims were filed, he said, adding:

"No fault encourages fewer dollars for lawyers and the overpaid victims of minor or phony injuries and more dollars to pay . . . the seriously injured."

While accident litigation would be drastically reduced, the most serious cases could still be adjudicated, and states would have latitude in determining when victims could file suit.

"The states will be making the decisions which will frame their laws according to their individual needs," he said. "This is not federal take-over legislation; it is creative, dynamic federalism."
